Fashionable Frits.

The prettiest hair ornaments are in the Kate Greenway styles.

Brilliant dresses are frequently composed of several different fabrics.

As a rule the gloves are even longer in proportion as the shoes are shorter.

Fancy feathers of all kinds adorn hats for domestic and business wear.

Broadcloth stuffs are in demand for cloaks, long dolmans, and veils.

Bricks and brickmasons' dresses have decreased that are drawn over the kid gloves.

Skirts of dresses should be narrow when there is any fullness or overpadding.

The large protruding cap is the shape

most generally adopted by women of fashion this winter, on all occasions when the Fashion is not admitted.

Little success yet in their teens wear the joke or old-fashioned "cushion." These are in vogue, with soft velvet crowns, in full velvet, plush, or Oxford satin.

The straight, high collar is affected by ladies with long, slender throats. These collars are generally of black velvet, with still, with gold, silver, steel, or pearl embroidery.

Buttons are long, rather than square, and are most frequently formed of lace or criss seams, which are kept in the shape of a ribbon, or of beads and bows of narrow ribbons or metal clasps at the throat and waist line.

Serpent's Eggs.

A Green Python Bringing Forth its Young.

The managers of the Boston Drama Musical Association have been successful in the state of great excitement about a local theater, by the intelligence brought to them by one of their keepers, that the great python Junio, now being exhibited there, had produced an egg.

Investigation showed that such was the case, and that the snake was actually in a state of production of its young. About an hour after the first egg was noticed, the second another egg was produced, which was followed by others at short intervals. It is estimated that the python will produce nearly seventy eggs before it will have laid its full litter. This great snake, a small snake of the kind, is doubtless one of the best ever brought to this country.

It was captured at Sanabang, thirty-four miles north of Calcutta, in India, on the day of January last, by Mr. Frank J. Pilling, a former agent of C. W. C. Co., who has had a wide and varied experience in the capture of wild animals, for exhibition purposes, in foreign lands. He made the trip to India for the express purpose of the capture of a python, and he has general interest to bee-keepers. It is replied to in this public manner:

"I am very much interested in bee-keeping, and have worked hard, with much success, to obtain a thorough knowledge of this delightful business.

At present the diversity of views in regard to the different varieties of bees is so great that I am at a loss to know which to follow. I am strongly in favor of hybrids. They enter the boxes readily, and in great numbers. They are very easy to manage, and they are very productive. I have tried the Italian

THE BREAD-WINNERS.

There, there, as I tell you, and do not waste time in disputing.

The young girl hesitated a moment, and then, with instinctive obedience, went off to fetch her drawing materials, while her mother went to her room.

Madame de Vouffray says Alice is a very clever girl, but she is so modest that she does nothing. She takes after me. I was very clever in my teens, but never would show it.

Alice came down the steps. Fanny, who was from her, and they went down the

What is Going on Around and About Us.

The Savoy Army at Ottawa is progressing favorably. It is hinted in Pictou that matters are not running as smoothly as they might among the troops of the Savoy Army. Mr. James Whitton, of Seymour East, has a herd of dairy cows, the milk product of which amounted to $40.00 per head for the season.

The Stirling school board have secured the services of Mr. J. Wallis, of Brantford, Ont., as headmaster of the Stirling school for 1884.

During their practice in the Springfield church recently, a quantity of cyanide paste was thrown on the floor, the fumes being driving the choir from the church.

Mrs. Sarah Robins, of Southampton, aged 40 years, widow of the late Capt. Robins, upon sending a procession past her home on Wednesday of last week, exclaimed that she would be the next to go and suddenly expired.

Mrs. Annie Clark, of South Maryborough, died on Wednesday last, at her home, at the age of 84 years. She was one of the oldest settlers in the township, having lived on the spot since 1824, when she was 60 years of age.

The Deseronto Tribune says: "Messrs. C. Dryden, T. Phipps and others, returned last week by the steamer from Oswego, where they have been working for the past few days, the labor troubles, Mr. C. Dryden having been there from the beginning of the strike, and he will be richly paid for their dangerous pastime."

The Campbellford Herald says: "Mr. David Macoun, late from the North-West, showed us one evening last week, a pelican which he had secured in the North-West, having been 7 feet 6 inches from tip of wings. He has taken the bird to a taxidermist in Belleville, and intends to have it mounted. Mr. Macoun is a young ornithologist, as he has collected two hundred specimens of birds of the North-West. He is a nephew of Prof. Macoun, the botanist."

On Saturday evening Mr. Joseph Gravel, who resides with his brother-in-law Mr. Smith, at the G.T. Railway, this being his fourth trip, left between the cars at this station this morning while doing some shunting, and the wheels passed over both arms, mauling them in a terrible manner. Both arms had to be amputated above the elbow. Smith was a shorthand writer, and was only acting as brakeman until he could secure a situation. In all probability he will recover.

A Remedy Needed.

When Senator Flint visited the postoffice this morning he learned that there was a letter there for him which had been insufficiently prepaid. The three-cent stamp which was on the envelope had been defaced and Mr. F. was asked to contribute three cents for an additional stamp and three cents for a fine. He had not been the cause of the letter not having been sufficiently prepaid and therefore would not submit to the fine. As a consequence the missive will be sent to the local office.

THE MURDER NEAR BLOOMFIELD.

Fuller Details of the Unfortunate Event.

Prince Edward is indeed a strange county, and strange indeed are the majority of the people who dwell therein. Contrasted with Hastings it is not so extensive, but when its extent is measured side by side with that of another and its monetary wealth shown up, then does it present itself as the wealthiest county in the province. There are no dark rivers to cross within its boundaries, and as the county is abundantly supplied on all sides with water, the municipal authorities have but little to expend in the way of supplies for bridges. True, the roads might be stoned in many places to the benefit of the travelling public and humanity in general, but as this would entail some expense, the question must of course, rest with the tax-payers.

When in the course of human events a newspaper reporter goes forth to learn "the latest," it is usual with him to take in the lay of the land and its surroundings, and the preamble to this sketch is substantiated by the facts. The County Council of Prince Edward and the railway company cannot manage their own business without the assistance of the writer of this article, but nevertheless, their roads can be improved.

The Late Peter Lazier.

On Saturday last a representative of this paper was detailed to visit the vicinity of the late murder, the victim being Peter Lazier, an old and highly respected resident of this city, who was killed in his endeavors to defend the property of a relative. Mr. Lazier was well known in this section. He was born in the County of Pictou and Prince Edward County had spent the greater portion of his life. He was a man of excellent habits, he was unassuming, temperate, sociable and gentlemanly, and had not an enemy. His quiet bearing, gentlemanly demeanor and cheerful manner of address won for him a wide circle of friends who deeply regret his untimely death. Peter Lazier will be long remembered by all who knew him, and recollections of him will not be accompanied by unfavorable reminiscences.

The Excitement.

Great was the excitement in this city on Saturday over the news of his death. It was not approached by that shown in the township of Hallowell and the town of Pictou. Indeed everyone who was driving along the road had some question to ask regarding the murder. The people were almost universally well educated, and Mr. Edward was well known as a county whose people are law abiding and peaceable and a poor field for litigation. Therefore for the news spread, the excitement became intense.

The Coroner's Inquest.

When our representative drove into Bloomfield on Saturday evening, he found the town hushed with people who were anxious to hear the coroner's inquest, which was then proceeding. The investigation, which was opened in the morning at the house of Mr. Gilbert Jones, which is about a mile and a quarter west of the town, was adjourned to the morning at the Town Hall. Mr. McNeer appeared for the Crown and Mr. Gilbert for the defence. The evidence submitted was of a similar character to that presented in the despatches published in Saturday's issue, with this exception, that two shots were fired, that the first missed the victim, that the second was fatal, and that Mr. Lazier in his fight with one of the burglars had been repeatedly struck on the head with the gun which was in the possession of the burglar.

The Verdict.

At the close of the enquiry the jury rendered a verdict that the deceased came to his death at the hands of some parties unknown to the jury.

The Search for the Murderers.

When the announcement was made that a murder had been committed, the authorities were soon apprised of the fact, and efforts were at once begun to ferret out the perpetrators of the crime. The officers who then looked after the case were Edward Jones, a brother-in-law of Mr. Lazier, and went at their work with necessary diligence. They first visited the house of Mr. Jones, took a survey of the premises, heard what the inmates had to say, and then went out with their enquiry. They then followed the footprints of two men in the snow and followed the trail, which led across the marsh and to the vicinity of West Lake. They traced it carefully and patiently, and the footprints led them to the house of Joseph Tompsett and David Louder.

The Prisoners.

The first named has followed the avocation of a fisherman and has plied his calling on the beach between Wellington and West Point for a number of years. He is in the possession of the late J. Tompsett, of Wellington, who acted as erior in the court, at Pictou, for a long period. He is about 35 years old, of medium build, and was plainly dressed and his face was adorned with heavy white whiskers. He was a wife and one child.

Lazier is unmarried. He is a companion of Tompsett's and resides with his parents near West Lake. He is a man of about 28 years of age, heavily built and of good appearance. The first named does not bear a very good character in the vicinity of Bloomfield, and but little is said against the latter, with the exception that he associated with some disreputable characters known in the township of Hallowell, in which they have resided. Louder's father is an industrious farmer and owns a large farm near West Lake.

The best description available was given by the coroner and the result was that George, brother of David Louder, was also arrested. The two first named were handcuffed together and were at the inquest in the custody of the police. They were then taken to the jail, where they were kept until the morning, when they were removed to the County Jail, where they are now confined.

He was a man of excellent habits, he was unassuming, temperate, sociable and gentlemanly, and had not an enemy. His quiet bearing, gentlemanly demeanor and cheerful manner of address won for him a wide circle of friends who deeply regret his untimely death. Peter Lazier will be long remembered by all who knew him, and recollections of him will not be accompanied by unfavorable reminiscences.

The Excitement.

Great was the excitement in this city on Saturday over the news of his death. It was not approached by that shown in the township of Hallowell and the town of Pictou. Indeed everyone who was driving along the road had some question to ask regarding the murder. The people were almost universally well educated, and Mr. Edward was well known as a county whose people are law abiding and peaceable and a poor field for litigation. Therefore for the news spread, the excitement became intense.

The Coroner's Inquest.

When our representative drove into Bloomfield on Saturday evening, he found the town hushed with people who were anxious to hear the coroner's inquest, which was then proceeding. The investigation, which was opened in the morning at the house of Mr. Gilbert Jones, which is about a mile and a quarter west of the town, was adjourned to the morning at the Town Hall. Mr. McNeer appeared for the Crown and Mr. Gilbert for the defence. The evidence submitted was of a similar character to that presented in the despatches published in Saturday's issue, with this exception, that two shots were fired, that the first missed the victim, that the second was fatal, and that Mr. Lazier in his fight with one of the burglars had been repeatedly struck on the head with the gun which was in the possession of the burglar.

The Verdict.

At the close of the enquiry the jury rendered a verdict that the deceased came to his death at the hands of some parties unknown to the jury.

The Search for the Murderers.

When the announcement was made that a murder had been committed, the authorities were soon apprised of the fact, and efforts were at once begun to ferret out the perpetrators of the crime. The officers who then looked after the case were Edward Jones, a brother-in-law of Mr. Lazier, and went at their work with necessary diligence. They first visited the house of Mr. Jones, took a survey of the premises, heard what the inmates had to say, and then went out with their enquiry. They then followed the footprints of two men in the snow and followed the trail, which led across the marsh and to the vicinity of West Lake. They traced it carefully and patiently, and the footprints led them to the house of Joseph Tompsett and David Louder.

The Prisoners.

The first named has followed the avocation of a fisherman and has plied his calling on the beach between Wellington and West Point for a number of years. He is in the possession of the late J. Tompsett, of Wellington, who acted as erior in the court, at Pictou, for a long period. He is about 35 years old, of medium build, and was plainly dressed and his face was adorned with heavy white whiskers. He was a wife and one child.

Lazier is unmarried. He is a companion of Tompsett's and resides with his parents near West Lake. He is a man of about 28 years of age, heavily built and of good appearance. The first named does not bear a very good character in the vicinity of Bloomfield, and but little is said against the latter, with the exception that he associated with some disreputable characters known in the township of Hallowell, in which they have resided. Louder's father is an industrious farmer and owns a large farm near West Lake.

The best description available was given by the coroner and the result was that George, brother of David Louder, was also arrested. The two first named were handcuffed together and were at the inquest in the custody of the police. They were then taken to the jail, where they were kept until the morning, when they were removed to the County Jail, where they are now confined.

There was some talk about lynching.

The Murder Near Bloomfield.

Fuller Details of the Unfortunate Event.

Prince Edward is indeed a strange county, and strange indeed are the majority of the people who dwell therein. Contrasted with Hastings it is not so extensive, but when its extent is measured side by side with that of another and its monetary wealth shown up, then does it present itself as the wealthiest county in the province. There are no dark rivers to cross within its boundaries, and as the county is abundantly supplied on all sides with water, the municipal authorities have but little to expend in the way of supplies for bridges. True, the roads might be stoned in many places to the benefit of the travelling public and humanity in general, but as this would entail some expense, the question must of course, rest with the tax-payers.

When in the course of human events a newspaper reporter goes forth to learn "the latest," it is usual with him to take in the lay of the land and its surroundings, and the preamble to this sketch is substantiated by the facts. The County Council of Prince Edward and the railway company cannot manage their own business without the assistance of the writer of this article, but nevertheless, their roads can be improved.

The Late Peter Lazier.

On Saturday last a representative of this paper was detailed to visit the vicinity of the late murder, the victim being Peter Lazier, an old and highly respected resident of this city, who was killed in his endeavors to defend the property of a relative. Mr. Lazier was well known in this section. He was born in the County of Pictou and Prince Edward County had spent the greater portion of his life. He was a man of excellent habits, he was unassuming, temperate, sociable and gentlemanly, and had not an enemy. His quiet bearing, gentlemanly demeanor and cheerful manner of address won for him a wide circle of friends who deeply regret his untimely death. Peter Lazier will be long remembered by all who knew him, and recollections of him will not be accompanied by unfavorable reminiscences.

AN OUTRAGE.

This morning Mr. W. N. Panton found his beautiful saddle, of horse outside of the stable in a pitiable condition. The animal was covered with sweat, its legs were cut and, generally speaking, it seemed to be in an almost dying condition. It had evidently been taken out of the stable during the night, and having been harnessed to sleigh, had been driven at break-neck speed for a long distance, after which it had either been turned loose or had escaped from the persecutors. Mr. Panton offered a reward of $20 for the conviction of the perpetrators of this vile outrage, and it is to be hoped that he will succeed in discovering the miscreants.

Goods Recovered.

The goods which were found by Mr. Jos. Gravel at the residence of his brother, on Mill Street, were taken to the police office today and identified by Mr. M. Martin, a wholesale cloth dealer, of Toronto. Mr. Martin asserts that through the local Australian proprietors of one of his travellers he had been offered $500 worth of goods in this city alone. He came here yesterday and has thus far succeeded in recovering about $500 worth.

THE ATTEMPTED ROBBERY

The Case Adjourned Until To-morrow

THE POLICE COURT room on Tuesday morning, the case against Thomas Parsons, who appeared on remand, charged with assault on Mrs. Patterson, on the night of the 17th with intent to rob.

The prisoner has been connected with the fire department of this city since 1871. He is 28 years of age, is married, has a family of four children, and is well known here. His wife was in court.

The complainant is a hardworking young man, a carter, and is also married. He is the Treasurer of the Hook and Ladder Company and has occupied that position for two years.

The prisoner asked to withdraw his former election to be tried by the Magistrate, and after argument decision was reserved.

The County Attorney and Mr. G. D. Dickson, C. C., appeared for the crown, and Mr. W. J. Diamond defended the prisoner.

The first witness called was Alex Patterson, the man who was assaulted. He was a carpenter and his face was bandaged. On being sworn he testified that he was assaulted while on his way to the Hook and Ladder Company's fire hall over Nathan Jones' store, about 10 or 15 minutes after 7 o'clock on the 17th. He had money which he was going to divide among the men. Notice had been given that a meeting of the company would be held on the night named. The meeting would be at 8 o'clock and the grant made by the Council is there distributed. The prisoner is a member of the company and he knew that the meeting was to be held.

When he was assaulted he had $200 with him. The night was not clear and there was a lamp near, which was not lit. The witness left his house on Foster Avenue and when near the corner of the Kingston road he saw a man crossing down the east side of the Avenue, and he passed just behind him. He did not notice the person and in a little while after he got a blow over the left eye. He fell and did not know anything until the party who had assaulted him was pressing his hands on his sides. The party was a stranger to him. Witness jumped up and threw his assailant over the crossing, after which the latter went up the Avenue by the way he came. Witness called "murder" and "I know you." He took the man who hit him to be Tom Parsons. The man had a cap on, drawn well down, no moustache and an overcoat buttoned up. He could recognize the figure if he saw it again.

The prisoner then put his cap on, buttoned it overcoat and stood up.

The witness said the size of the prisoner was about that of the one who struck him. He did not know whether he was black or white. Cross examined.—He had told several that the person who had struck him were dark colored. His brother Samuel had the first one he saw after he had assaulted him. He afterwards went to Dr. Gibson's office. He had not said it, that he had been struck with a piece of iron or a club. After the doctor fixed his eye up he told him of the assault. He saw Meadows, the foreman of the company, that night and he said that all the company were at the hall but Parsons, Beckley and himself. After receiving the blow he stood up and then the man who hit him was but eight feet away. He did not look at the man who was behind him. He afterwards went to the house of his wife for five years as a member of the company. He did not recognize him as Tom Parsons. He was knocked senseless by the blow he had received and only recovered when he was taken to the hospital. He was there for five days. He did not get up until the 22nd of the month. He was then taken to his home. He was then taken to his home. He was then taken to his home.

Re-examined by Mr. Dickson.—Witness was knocked senseless with which he was hit on Monday last. It was found by Richard Arnot and remained at his house until this morning. Witness' head, he said, was aching and on that account he could not get to his senses. Parsons did not ask him if he had got the money. As he was not unbuttoned that night. The one who struck him passed him at the corner at a distance of about three feet.

Witness, sworn, said that he had personal and epistolary communications with the Toronto Police, and that he knew the goods stolen from Mr. Patterson's house in yesterday's issue was the first information they had received of the recovery of the goods.

James Jackson, said he knew both parties to this case and that he was Foreman of the company. The President had given notice that the grant would be distributed on the night of the 14th. Parsons was present when it was decided to hold a meeting and he knew that the object had been signed and sealed. He thought the club produced was the last end of a cue that had been used in a bowling alley. Patterson had told him that it was Parsons who had struck him. Witness told Patterson that Parsons had not been at the fire hall that night. He thought that Parsons was the man who had committed the assault. Parsons was not at the meeting when the money was to be distributed, and several of the members of the company were not present on that night.

Dr. Gibson re-called.—He could not tell if the hairs on the club were human or not.

The case was adjourned until to-morrow and the prisoner was committed without bail.

A Notorious Criminal.

James Jackson, alias George Foster, who was on Monday sentenced by the Police Magistrate to six years in the penitentiary for stealing a horse, buggy, and harness, was yesterday taken to Kingston by Goadley Appleby and Deputy Sheriff Hope, and safely handed over to the penitentiary authorities. The prisoner is but 24 years of age, but although young in years he is old in crime. He was sentenced to Toronto to the Reformatory at Penetanguishene for 5 years; next from the same place to the penitentiary for 3 years; next from Kingston to the penitentiary for 5 years; next from the same place to the penitentiary for 18 months; and finally from Belleville to penitentiary for 6 years. This of his 24 years of life Jackson has passed 14 years in prison, from which, since his first incarceration, he has never been more than two or three days at any one time. This is a record of recidivism which can hardly be beaten.

OLIVE COURT

James Green was ordered to leave the city at once or he would be sent to Central Prison. John O'Meara was dismissed. Rosa St. Charles, on remand for the robbery of some clothing from the laundry, was liberated and Mary Alexander was sent up for 14 days on remand for the same charge. Simon Sanford, who was also charged with the same offence, was discharged.

The Seal Skin Seal.

The police here, though they have had personal and epistolary communications with the Toronto Police, and that he knew the goods stolen from Mr. Patterson's house in yesterday's issue was the first information they had received of the recovery of the goods.

U. S. Tickell & Sons have greatly enlarged and improved the interior of their factory on the east, which is a very large and modern building, in fact one of the best and most complete in this part.

Their manufactures are shipped to, and sold by the leading furniture and hardware stores throughout the Dominion, and doing a large business, they can, and do sell at small prices.

During the past few months the patterns have been continually changing in all classes of work from the lowest priced to the finest goods.

Shelter for Sheep.

The frequent changes of temperature that have prevailed during the last four or five weeks should bring the sheep breeders and wool growers to a realization of the importance of providing for their animals proper protection against the inclemency of the season. None of the live stock of the farm are so sensitive to the quick changes of temperature and the cold and damp of the fall months, and none respond so readily to the influence of the weather as the sheep. A shelter for the flock during the winter months is a necessity, and one which cannot be afforded by the farmer. THE SCHOOL READERS.

The following important announcement appeared in the Globe on the 27th inst.: "We understand that the Minister of Education is desirous of having the question of new Readers further considered, with a view to having only one set for the whole of the Province, if this shall appear to be in the interest of the schools and to be practicable without doing injustice to the proprietors of any of the series already published. Under these circumstances it would therefore be advisable that Trustees of new Readers into the schools under their control."

We trust that the intimation given by the Government agent is well founded. Should Mr. Ross re-establish uniformity of text books for the public schools, he will do much to popularize his administration of the Education Department.

Correspondence.

The letter of Dr. H. J. Huxley, which appeared in our issue of Wednesday, is calculated to excite a needless alarm and an unfounded prejudice against the admission of immigrants to the source of the water supply of the City. The escape of Trenton and of the Des Moines from the source of the water supply of the City is a very great danger. The so-called "poison" which the Doctor has said he has observed in the field of his microscope, is in reality the spores or seeds of the various species of conferva, diatoms and other minute aquatic plants, which abound in the Bay in the months of July and August, but far from being "harmful" to the water supply, these plants are performing the part of purifiers, by consuming and converting into the harmless vegetable tissue of the water.

Water contained in the water, which would otherwise render it dangerous. To find such a large mass of minute and minute plants, which Doctor Huxley has taken the trouble to find, is only six, as the water of the open Bay contains a vast number of minute plants, which are not but little animals, either free or attached, from which the minute and minute are derived. The bacteria germ, which are "the true source of disease," are perfectly undetectable by the highest power of the latest microscope in the hands of our best and most practiced analysts. As to the power of boiling, which I venture to assert that there exists no germ, animal or vegetable, which can endure the heat of boiling water, that is at the elevation above sea level, 210 degrees Fahrenheit's thermometer, without having its germinative power completely destroyed. Professor Tyndall has shown that although some of these germs survive an exposure to boiling heat for five minutes, yet these are injured. One of the latter does not die until it is exposed to a temperature of twenty to thirty minutes completely destroyed the whole. If Dr. James obtained bacterial results in his Bay, the water is not so bad as he would have us believe. The same cause which visited Dr. Charles Johnston's experiments on Algonquin, namely Indian contamination from the Bay, is the cause of the contamination of the water at all times and in all places in the atmosphere.

Public Works—A Resolution Passed. New York, Dec. 23.—Committee of Public Works, in a letter to the Mayor concerning the affairs of his department, says that the Mayor has declared a local necessity by the law department and sustained by the courts. The loss from the most extensive of the rock and earth excavations by the Surveyors, the Commissioners, was due to the serious embankments which the surveyors had made to the popular composition of Manhattan Island, and the lack of instruments, adapted to investigate the character of the mass and excavated at a considerable depth. The superior knowledge, seemingly possessed by the contractors, and the main cause of the failure, was the fact that the three millions of dollars estimated have been expended by only $100,000.

C. B. Bunker of the Mining and Petroleum Exchange, has disappeared. It is estimated that he owes members of the Exchange $20,000.

Afternoon Despatches. Cable Notes. The Last "Pliny"—Bradford on the Atlantic. Dec. 23.—Capt. Scott of the wrecked steamer Pliny, says that on Nov. 17th, in latitude 41.17, longitude 12.20, a hurricane carried away the poop deck, the bridge skylight, and main deck from the poop to the engine room, leaving only the iron work intact. One of the masts fell, smashing 5 life-boats and 4 perches. The water quenched the fire and filled the hold. Four sailors and one passenger perished at this time. Dr. Fraser and four of the sailors were injured. One of the latter died. Four hundred and sixty tons of the cargo were jettisoned to relieve the vessel. Several sailors passed while the Pliny was undergoing her terrible trial, but paid no attention to the distress signals. The crew worked at the pumps and baled water night and day, keeping the ship afloat until Dec. 20th, when the iceberg struck and the passengers and crew. Two of the men were afterwards transferred to another vessel.

London, Dec. 23.—Bradford declares that he will forcibly take possession of his seat in the House of Commons, on the re-assembling of Parliament.

THE LAZIER MURDER.

THE SCENE OF THE CRIME DESCRIBED.

PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION OF THE PRISONERS.

EVIDENCE OF MR. AND MRS. JONES.

Mr. Jones does not identify the witnesses.

(Special from our own reporter.)

Thursday afternoon a representative of the INTELLIGENCER was detailed to visit the scene of the murder, near Bloomfield, and obtain the preliminary as well as the evidence presented to the court.

In order to do so he proceeded to the residence of Mr. GILBERT JONES' home in Halliwell, where the murder took place.

The house is a comfortable one and bears every evidence of the life of its owner, the care and attention of his helpmate.

In looking over the premises our reporter was shown the FOOT PRINTS MADE IN THE SNOW.

By the person who visited the house on Friday night last and so fully murdered Peter Lazier. The foot prints were covered with boxes in order that it were found necessary to further examine them, it could be done.

To give an idea of

THE FREIGHT OCCASIONED

by the murder and the general feeling of insecurity pervading that section of the county where the murder was committed, it may be stated that on the occasion of a party losing their way, on Thursday last and looking, of course, to the nearest house to ascertain their exact location, the door was not opened to make the answer.

Explanations had to be made before the desired answers were obtained.

MR. JONES HAS RECOVERED

from the effects of his mishap, and Mrs. Jones has regained her usual strength and cheerfulness. It is thought by those who are members of the household that the deed was well planned and premeditated and that the presence of Mr. Lazier in the house was unknown to the murderers. There are foot prints in the rear of the house in close proximity to it, and it is alleged that in the vicinity of an adjacent building which Mr. Lazier passed before he retired on the night of his murder, for steps were discernible in the snow and imprints such as would be made by persons who had fallen on icy sidewalks in the white mantle which covered the ground.

THE MURDERERS WERE HIDDEN

IN ABOUT BLOOMFIELD

THE FACTMENT STILL WAS HIGH

and the murder is the all engrossing topic of conversation. In Picton the feeling is more settled, but the impression prevails that the three now in custody are the guilty parties.

Mrs. Tompatt and the relatives of the Louder called at the goal during the week, but were not permitted to see the prisoners.

The Preliminary Examination.

By Telegraph From our Reporter.

PICTON, ONT., 28.

Early today people residing in the locality where the murder was committed began to arrive here, and the hotels are filled. All the talk was concentrated on the murder, and as the hour for the opening of the enquiry approached, crowds would their way by the Grand Hotel, where the investigation was held at night.

The building was crowded, the numbers present being equally as great as on the trial of J. P. C. Pearson and Thomas Thompson, for the murder of John Adams on Christmas night.

There were a number of persons among the audience, all of whom in accordance with custom, wore their caps. Prominent people of the town were well represented. The enquiry is before Mr. Magistrate G. C. Curry, of Picton, Mr. A. S. Taylor, of Casselman and John H. Allen, P. L. O., of County Attorney, appeared for the Crown, Mr. S. B. Burdett for the private prosecutor. Mr. N. Gilbert acted for the prisoners.

WHEN THE PRISONERS WERE BROUGHT IN

all eyes were turned on them, and a buzz of comment pervaded the room. George Louder was the first to enter, followed by his brother and Tompatt. The accused were provided with seats in front of the dock. They appeared quite cheerful and exchanged smiling glances of recognition with their friends.

MR. AND MRS. GILBERT JONES

entered the Court as the prisoners were ordered to stand up to plead.

Mr. Taylor read the charge, which was that Thomas Tompatt, David Louder and George Louder feloniously, with intent and with arms aforethought, did on the 21st of December, in the Township of Halliwell, kill and murder Mr. Peter Lazier.

When asked to plead each of the prisoners answered with firm voices,

"NOT GUILTY."

Mr. Gilbert, objected to Mr. Burdett's asking the Crown and asked that the inquiry be private and witnesses excluded.

The objection was overruled, and Mr. Gilbert went on to ask where the murder was committed, was
